

THE LITTLE GALLERY PROJECT SPACE - APPLICATION FORM – 2020 PROGRAM

DEVONPORT REGIONAL GALLERY

The Devonport Regional Gallery evolved from the inception of The Little Gallery, which was founded by Jean Thomas as a private enterprise in 1966 and known as the first public gallery on the north west coast. Now owned and operated by the Devonport City Council, the Gallery collects and promotes Tasmanian art, craft and design. The Gallery presents an annual program of exhibitions across three spaces, the Main Gallery, Upper Gallery and Little Gallery, as well as education and public programs including events and workshops.

DRG's Vision

To be the leading regional gallery of contemporary Tasmanian art

DRG's Mission

Inspiring creativity and ideas through the arts

THE LITTLE GALLERY PROJECT SPACE

The Little Gallery is named in honour of Jean Thomas. Jean's vision for the Gallery was as a centre for community arts and activities that promoted the work of emerging and established Tasmanian artists alongside national and international artists.

The Little Gallery Project Space Program is open to emerging Tasmanian artists whose projects are innovative and thought provoking, and address the Gallery's mission.

It is preferable that projects have not been shown before and are recent (not more than 12 months old).
